SAIL AWAY WITH SOO ZOU

Daydreaming at work was actually a good thing for Pia Kuhlemann, when her office view of sailboats on the ocean inspired Soo Zou bags. Launching this summer, the line of hand-sewn bags, totes and wallets are made from recycled sails and feature interchangeable braided straps and large grommets. "When I lived in Hamburg, people had been making simple bags out of sailcloth for a long time," explains Kuhlemann, "But they were never considered as fashion accessories." Other details? Soo Zou bags will also flaunt silkscreen-designed linings and maps of Hawaii that depict where the satchel once set sail. $60-$220. www.soozou.com. -L.G.
